Dear parent or carer,

Re: NSPCC Number Day – Friday 4th February

I am writing to inform you that on Friday 4th of February, our school will participate in fun, maths games and activities for NSPCC's Number Day.

Throughout the day, classes will compete in an online maths-a-thon using our online learning platforms: Numbots and TTRockstars. Children will log in and battle it out, answering as many math questions as they are able to, against the clock, their class-mates and even children from across the UK. There are lots of certificates and prizes to be won!

Times Tables Rockstars partnered with NSPCC to create NSPCC Rocks, a nation-wide virtual event running from 7.30am – 7.30pm. For the chance to be a national winner, children might want to maximize their 1 hour entry window and compete from home!

We are inviting children to donate £1 to dress up and enter our fancy dress competition. In Nursery, Reception and Year 1 to dress up as Robots, or what we like to call – Numbots! Children in Years 2 to 6 can dress as a Times Tables Rockstars!

All money raised will be donated to NSPCC and important services such as Childline and/or Speak out Stay safe, which helps children understand what abuse is and what to do if they're scared or worried.

I am sure it will be an exciting day!

Yours sincerely,

Miss G. Thomas
